Satellite is a viable alternative to analog radio, much as cable TV is to local programming. But the thing I love is the ability to have both. This is why I pay my TV satellite provider to beam local channels in Los Angeles in digital sound and picture. Please don't inhibit satellite radio from offering local choices such as Instant Traffic and Weather - one of the key reasons I even signed up for satellite radio. Consumers need the power to make choices and satellite providers deserve the chance to offer a variety of competitive choices to their customers. Living in Los Angeles, I find the Instant Traffic and Weather to be VITAL and I love having it, especially being that big city drivers can use every opportunity to avoid horrible traffic. Please consider all the feedback you're getting.
